Tiger Tidbits

All-ACC noseguard Rob Bodine came to Clemson as a running back, following in the footsteps of his father, who once ran in the same backfield with LSU basketball coach Dale Brown. Rob spent his freshman year at the University of North Dakota, a school known for its hockey team, rather than its football team. Rob had 21 tackles, including five for loss at North Dakota in 1987 before deciding to transfer to Clemson and walk-on to the football team. This year he leads the Clemson team in tackles for loss with 14, quite an accomplishment for Clemson's lightest (245 pounds) middle guard in 10 years.

Two-time All-ACC linebacker Doug Brewster changed his outlook on life and the game of football this year all because of a little walk he took last summer. On July 28, 1990, Doug walked down the aisle to take Tammy Johnson as his lawful wedded wife. Brewster credits his bride with helping him organize his time as he tries to balance being a student, an athlete and a husband. Tammy also has become Doug's toughest critic. "After one game, I told him he had done OK, but he had missed a few tackles and could have done better," she laughs. "Doug looked at me like I was crazy!" Like most Clemson fans, Tammy says there is nothing she likes better than to see her husband hit somebody, "and hit them hard!"

All-ACC punter and placekicker Chris Gardocki may have begun his athletic career earlier than any other player on the Clemson team. Chris discovered that he liked to kick the ball at the tender age of three. While his older brother Tad played soccer on an organized team, little Chris would kick the ball around the field. Chris has grown a little since then, and the ball he kicks is oblong instead of round. But who knows, it may have been those extra years of experience that made him into the all-star player he is today.

A few years ago, Clemson had the "Fridge". This year, the Tigers boast the "human dormitory." Fullback Howard Hall has earned that nickname this season, after gaining a large following in a very unlikely place: South Bend, Indiana. When the Tigers played on national television against Virginia, a group of co-eds living in Notre Dame's Howard Hall, decided they would like to join Tiger Howard Hall's fan club. The group contacted the Clemson Sports Information Office and before long, received a picture of Howard, autographed, "To all my fans in Howard Hall, from Howard Hall." The intramural football team from the dorm now carries that picture to all of their games and follows Howard's progress weekly. The story about the picture made the national wire, USA Today, Sports Illustrated, and was featured by CBS.

Many South Carolina highway patrol are on duty at Tiger home games, as the tiny town of Clemson becomes one of the largest in the state with 80,000+ fans packing Death Valley. But one of those uniformed highway patrolmen on the sidelines looks vaguely familiar to the Tiger faithful, in fact, he looks suspiciously like one of the guys in the orange uniforms. That's because John Hammond is the father of defensive tackle Vance Hammond. Corporal Hammond, who also played college football at Wingate, has taken Vance and his brother Mark to the games he patrolled since his sons were young, usually games at the University of South Carolina. In 1977, 10-year-old Vance got so excited when the Gamecocks scored a touchdown, he jumped right on the pile of celebrating players. Since then, Vance has obviously switched his allegiances to Clemson as he has become an All-ACC member of the winningest class in ACC history.

If you think outside linebacker Levon Kirkland is a little better at celebrating the big play than most players, it may be because he has had years of practice. A self-described "strange little boy", Levon used to play football all by himself in his backyard in Lamar, SC. He would snap the ball, throw the ball and catch the ball. He would even be the P.A. announcer. After he would snap the ball to himself, throw the ball to himself and catch the ball for a touchdown, he would high-five the air and scream and yell, all the while announcing to the make-believe crowd what was happening, as if the whole town of Lamar was there watching. Now, if the whole town of Lamar did decide to come to Clemson to watch their favorite son, who was a finalist for this year's Butkus Award, the entire population could fit in the green grass section of the Clemson endzone.

Linebacker Ed McDaniel, who leads the Ronald Williams was one of just 18 players on his high school team last year.

Clemson team in tackles this season for the second time in his career, may be the hardest hitter on the Clemson team, even though he describes himself as a "small, short, tubby young man." But Eddie-Mac may be the player he is today all because of a dollar bet he made when he was seven-years-old. Ed's Uncle Charlie bet his young nephew a dollar that he couldn't make a sack in a game. By the end of the game, Uncle Charlie was a dollar poorer and nephew Ed had decided what he wanted to do for the next few years. "I made that sack and ever since then, I knew I could do it."

Wide receiver and kickoff returner extraordinaire Doug Thomas' hometown of Hamlet, NC, may have the largest group of great athletes per capita of any town in the country. Doug followed in the footsteps of other famous Hamlet athletes like his cousin Mike Quick, an all-pro receiver for the Philadelphia Eagles, cornerback Perry Williams who played for the New York Giants, the Cincinnati Bengals' Louis Breedin, major league outfielder Franklin Stubbs of the Houston Astros, and Ed Marshall from the New York Yankees. Even in his own family, Doug had some athletic shoes to fill, as his older brother "Skeets" was a standout in baseball at the University of South Carolina and is now playing AA ball in the St. Louis Cardinal organization.

Several members of the Tiger football squad keep fairly busy during the off-season by starring with the Clemson track squad. Wide receivers Doug Thomas and Larry Ryans, and defensive back James Trapp were all members of the squad that won the 1990 ACC indoor and outdoor conference titles. Thomas was the 1990 ACC champion in the 55-meters indoors and qualified for the NCAA meet. Ryans and Trapp were both named All-Americans in 1990, with Ryans winning honors in the 110-meter high hurdles outdoors and Trapp being honored indoors in the 55-meters. Trapp was also named the MVP of the ACC outdoor meet, as he was the champion in the 100 and 200 meters.

ACC Rookie-of-the-Year and Clemson's leading rusher Ronald Williams may have been the only freshman in 1990 who wasn't a little intimidated when he arrived at Tigertown and was faced with three-a-day practices. In fact, three-a-days and two-a-days at Clemson were a piece of cake to him after his high school days at Ninety Six High School in the town of Ninety Six, South Carolina. As a prepster, Ronald went through two-a-day practices every season — practices that may have been a little tougher than the average high school workout. In fact, head coach Wayne Sweeney was so tough, only 18 players were able to stick it out and play Ronald's senior season. Ronald played running back and free safety his senior season and must not have been too worn out from Sweeney's tough practices as he gained 1740 yards and scored 38 touchdowns.

Clemson Tiger Personnel Overview

Backfield

Clemson has been a run-oriented team for over a decade and this overall strategy did not change in 1990. Clemson ran the ball 76 percent of the time this season and averaged 255.3 yards per game on the ground, the ninth best figure in the nation. Clemson reached this level with a veteran offensive line that included three seniors, but it was the youngest group of skill position players for the Tigers since 1943 (20 combined years at the five skill positions heading into the season). Five of the top six rushers were freshmen or sophomores.

The leading rusher is first-year freshman Ronald Williams. The native of Ninety Six, SC gained 914 yards in 164 carries, a 5.57 average, and he led the team in touchdowns with eight. He did not become a starter until the fourth game of the season and had four 100-yard games over the last seven contests, including plus-120-yard days against archrivals South Carolina and Georgia. Williams became just the third Clemson player in history to win ACC Rookie-of-the-Year honors.

Rodney Blunt started the season at the tailback slot, but injured an ankle at Maryland, allowing Williams to take over the starting spot. He finished the year on a high note with 65 yards in 12 carries against South Carolina and he ended the regular season with 73 rushes for 264 yards. Derrick Witherspoon also made significant contributions as a tailback in his freshman year. He gained 261 yards in just 42 attempts, a 6.2 average. He had the longest run (81 yards) and the longest pass reception (56 yards) of the season for the Tigers.

The fullback position saw three players make significant contributions at one time or another and it ended the season as one of the deepest slots on the roster. Howard Hall started eight of the 11 games and the red-shirt sophomore gained 258 yards in 58 attempts. He was the top rusher after three games, but a knee injury forced him to miss three contests at midseason.

Rudy Harris and Tony Kennedy then moved to the forefront. Harris, a 225-pound sophomore, actually finished second on the Clemson rushing charts with 353 yards. The native of Brockton, MA, scored five touchdowns, three rushing and two receiving. He scored the winning TD against Maryland on a pass reception, the first Clemson fullback to catch a TD pass in 18 years. Kennedy had 185 yards in 43 carries and scored the key touchdown in the victory over South Carolina. Over the course of the season, Hall was in for 308 snaps, Harris for 275 and Kennedy 192.

DeChane (pronounced Dee Shawn) Cameron started at quarterback in all 11 games this year. It was his third season with the Tigers, but his first as the starter. Cameron hit on 84 of 175 passes for 1044 yards and five TDs. He threw just five interceptions, and is in fact second in Clemson history in career interception avoidance. The native of LaGrange, GA is also fifth in Clemson history in career completion percentage with a 52 percent mark.

A fine runner, Cameron is third on the team in rushing with 285 yards in 108 attempts and he scored four TDs. He led Clemson in rushing in the win over Duke with 84 yards, the first time in nine seasons a Clemson quarterback had led the team in rushing. He finished the season strong as far as passing is concerned, hitting 35 of his last 63 (.556) and completed over 50 percent of his passes in three of the last four games.

Offensive Line

Clemson's offensive line is led by consensus All-American Stacy Long. The starting tackle was a finalist for the Outland Trophy and was chosen a first-team All-American by AP, UPI, The Sporting News, Football News and the Football Writers Association. Long was a key reason Clemson was ninth in the nation in rushing offense. He had 46 knockdown blocks and graded at 79 percent over the course of the season, a fine accomplishment considering he was injured much of the time over the first five games of the season.

Eric Harmon is an All-ACC guard. The native of Camden, NJ has started 46 games in his Clemson career, more than any other Tiger in history, and he also holds the Clemson record for career knockdown blocks with 265, including a team best 68 this season. Clemson has finished in the top 15 in the nation in rushing each of the last four years and Harmon is the only common denominator on the offense as a starter over that period of time.

Jeb Flesch joins Harmon as the other starting guard. Flesch had 48 knockdown blocks and was a second-team all-conference performer. Curtis Whitley is the starting center, a slot he held over the last eight games of the season. Whitley had 45 knockdown blocks and graded at least 73 percent in three of the last four games.

Bruce Bratton and Stacy Fields are two intelligent linemen on the Clemson team. Bratton was an All-ACC academic selection last year who graded at 76 percent for the season, while Fields finished third on the team in receptions from the tight end position. He had 13 catches for 121 yards and also chipped in with 26 knockdown blocks. Fields has already been a two-time All-ACC Academic selection.

Wide Receivers

Terry Smith has been Clemson's leading receiver all year and in fact had almost double the reception total of any other Tiger. The native of Clemson had 31 receptions for 437 yards and two touchdowns. The reception and yardage totals were both Clemson freshman records by sizeable margins. He had his best game against Maryland when he snared nine balls for 84 yards, the most catches in a game by any Tiger in nine seasons.

Doug Thomas is a big-play performer who was second on the team in all-purpose running (569 yards). The senior had 16 catches for 252 yards and also led the team in kickoff returns with 307 yards on 10 attempts. Thomas averaged over 20 yards every time he touched the ball this season. He was an all-conference sprinter on the Clemson track team last year and has already played on six ACC championship teams at Clemson, four in track and two in football.

Larry Ryans is a third speedy wideout for the Tigers. The first All-America hurdler for the Clemson track team, Ryans caught 11 passes for 101 yards after beginning the season as a tailback. He averaged 7.5 yards a rush for the season and can be a game-breaker.

Special Teams

The special teams area of the squad is led by second-team All-American Chris Gardocki. The junior ranked fourth in the nation and led the ACC in punting with a 44.34 average on 53 punts, and also ranked in a tie for fourth in the country in field goals per game with 19 in 24 attempts over 11 contests. He was 16-17 inside the 48 yardline this year and the only miss was a block when someone missed their assignment in Clemson's offensive line.

Gardocki is the second player in NCAA history to finish in the top five in the nation in punting and placekicking (Steve Little of Arkansas in 1977 is the other) in the same season and it is the second year in a row he has ranked in the top 10, the only player in NCAA history to do it twice. This season he has kicked a 57-yard field to tie an ACC record and also has a 78-yard punt, second longest in Clemson history. The native of Stone Mountain,

All-ACC guard Eric Harmon was a major reason Clemson was ninth in the nation in rushing.

Bodine, originally a walk-on, led the Tigers in tackles for loss.

GA is first in Clemson history in punting and second in total field goals. He needs just four to become Clemson's career field goal leader.

As far as returns are concerned, Clemson has a game-breaker in Doug Thomas. The wide receiver had two 98-yard kickoff returns for touchdowns this year, the first Clemson player ever to score two TDs on kickoff returns in a career, never mind a season. Thomas averaged 30.7 yards a return and would have led the country, but he was one attempt short of qualifying for the national statistics.

The punt return duties are divided between Dexter Davis and Robert O'Neal, a pair of All-ACC defensive backs. Davis has 29 returns for 191 yards, a 6.6 average, while O'Neal has 11 returns for an 8.5 average. He had a 30-yard return against South Carolina, the longest return by a Tiger all season.

As far as kickoff return and punt return coverage, Clemson is led by Shane Scott and David Joye, who both have 21 tackles on special teams. The 21 tackles ties a Clemson single season record for special team tackles. Ashley Sheppard has added 19 stops.

Overall, defense on punt and kickoff returns has been a trouble spot for Clemson as the Tigers have given up 26 yards a kickoff return this year, last in the ACC. Opponents have averaged 10 yards a punt return and in both of Clemson's losses this season a kickoff return or punt return was a pivotal play in the game.

Scott Beville is the snapper on all punts and placekick situations. He is in his third year of this duty and is a reason Gardocki has had just one punt blocked in his career. He has not had a wild snap all year in 106 attempts. Third-team quarterback Jimmy McLees is the holder.

Defensive Line

Clemson led the nation in total defense, allowing just 217 yards a game. The Tigers also ranked second in rushing defense, second in scoring defense and sixth in passing efficiency defense, the first time Clemson has ever finished in the top 10 in the nation in all four categories. It has been a balanced defense that has not suffered from injury or lineup changes. No one has 100 tackles on the Clemson team, but 22 different players have a tackle for loss and 14 different players have recorded sacks. Eight of the 11 starters have been first or second-team all-conference at one time or another in their careers.

The frontline of defense is led by All-ACC and honorable mention All-American Vance Hammond. The senior leader led the team in sacks with eight and also recorded 12 tackles for loss. He was fourth on the team in tackles with 66.

Rob Bodine was a first-team All-ACC performer and has been the most pleasant surprise on the Clemson defense each of the last two years. The lightest starting middle guard at Clemson in 10 years, the 245-pounder had 78 tackles to lead all Clemson defensive linemen and he paced the entire team in tackles for loss with 14. The original walk-on also had 5.5 sacks and had three double figure tackle games.

Chester McGlockton came on strong at the end of the season and ranked sixth on the team in tackles with 53. He also had 6.5 sacks to rank second to Hammond, but 4.5 of them came in the last two games of the season. He was Clemson's MVP (according to ACC TV) in each of the last two games.

Linebackers

Clemson's group of inside and outside linebackers was named the best in the nation in the Sporting News preseason yearbook. They did nothing to lose that reputation this season. They were major reasons Clemson allowed just 2.14 yards a rush, a Clemson record for that area.

Inside linebackers Ed McDaniel and Doug Brewster led the team in tackles. McDaniel had 97 stops, including 12 tackles behind the line of scrimmage, most tackles for loss by a Clemson inside linebacker in 12 years. A first-team all-conference pick by Football News, McDaniel had five double figure tackle games and tied a Clemson record with four caused fumbles.

Brewster was a second-team All-ACC linebacker in 1990 after making first-team a year ago.

Brewster was second on the team in tackles with 79. He has started each of the last 25 games and has 37 starts in his career. The native of Athens is ranked sixth in Clemson history in tackles with 306.

Four outside linebackers have been in for 250 plays apiece this year. This might be the deepest area of the Clemson football team. All four have between 39 and 53 tackles and are all capable of starting.

Levon Kirkland led the outside linebackers in tackles with 53 and he also had 10 tackles for loss, quite an accomplishment for someone who averages just 40 plays a game. The junior was a finalist for the Butkus Award this year, the only underclassman to rank in the top five for that award. He was a second-team AP All-American.

John Johnson joins Kirkland as a starter. The senior who is one of the leaders of this entire team, had 41 tackles and six behind the line of scrimmage. A four-year starter, he is a big reason Clemson has ranked in the top five in total defense each of the last two seasons.

Wayne Simmons and Ashley Sheppard are a pair of sophomores who are destined for stardom. Simmons had 39 stops and four behind the line of scrimmage, while Sheppard had 45 tackles, including eight (with two sacks) against Wake Forest when he was named ACC Player-of-the-Week.

Secondary

The Clemson secondary does not play much prevent defense. Often they are left with one-on-one coverage, allowing a blitz by Clemson linebackers. But this group has covered opposing receivers closely, a reason Clemson is sixth in the nation in passing efficiency defense. Opponents averaged just 5.2 yards an attempt and threw for just five touchdowns in 11 games.

Dexter Davis is the leader of the secondary. He did not make any All-America teams, but had the statistics to be a selection. The native of Sumter (same hometown as former Tiger All-American Terry Kinard) led the ACC in interceptions with six and he ranked 14th in the nation in that category as a junior. He provided game-breaking plays in three Tiger victories this year; a late interception against Maryland; a 52-yard fumble return for a score at N.C. State; and a 30-yard interception return for a touchdown against North Carolina. He was a first-team All-ACC choice and is in the top five in Clemson history in PBUs and interceptions.

Safety Robert O'Neal was a first-team All-ACC choice in 1989. The native of Clarkston, GA led the secondary and was fifth on the team in tackles with 56. O'Neal led the ACC in interceptions last year with a Clemson record eight thefts, including one against Major Harris in last year's Gator Bowl.

Two seniors have had outstanding seasons in the secondary for the Tigers. Arlington Nunn is a roverback who set a Clemson record with two interception returns for touchdowns this year, one against Long Beach State and one against Wake Forest. Both times they provided Clemson with an early lead. Jerome Henderson is a senior cornerback who had eight passes broken up and is high on many pro scout lists this spring. He will be appearing in his fourth bowl game for the Tigers.

Clemson Notes

Three Tigers on Associated Press All-America Teams

A record three Clemson players were named either first or second-team AP and UPI All-American this year. Stacy Long was on the first team as an offensive tackle, while Chris Gardocki was a second-team placekicker and Levon Kirkland was a second-team outside linebacker.

No Clemson team had had that many on the first two AP teams. In 1982 Clemson had three players over the first three teams as Terry Kinard was a first-team choice, while William Perry and Johnny Rembert were third-team selections. The national championship team of 1981 had Kinard on the first AP team, while Jeff Davis was a second-team selection.

According to Football News, Long was on the first team, Gardocki on the second team and Kirkland on the third team. Clemson also had Eric Harmon, Doug Brewster, Ronald Williams, Vance Hammond, Gardocki as a punter, Ed McDaniel, Dexter Davis, and Robert O'Neal as honorable mention All-Americans according to the Football News team.

Stacy Long was Clemson's only representative on the Football Writers team, the organization only selects a first team. Long also was a first-team choice by The Sporting News, giving him five first-team selections.

Clemson Holds Nine First-team All-ACC Slots

Clemson held nine first-team positions, more than any other school, on the 1990 All-ACC team as chosen by the Atlantic Coast Conference Sportswriters Association. This is considered the official All-ACC team. League champion Georgia Tech and Sugar Bowl participant Virginia had five selections apiece.

Clemson had four first-team selections on defense, three on offense and both the punter and placekicker positions. Chris Gardocki held down both the punter and placekicker slots, he ranks in the top 5 in the nation in both categories. Ronald Williams is a first-team runningback and was chosen the conference Rookie-of-the-Year. He finished second in the ACC and ranks 26th in the nation in rushing yards per game.

Clemson held down two of the five interior line positions. Stacy Long was a repeat selection to the first team as an offensive tackle, while Eric Harmon was chosen as a first-team guard. Harmon made the UPI team last year as a junior, but did not make the sportswriters' team. Junior guard Jeb Flesch made the second team.

Clemson held down two of the three interior defensive line positions. Vance Hammond, who led Clemson's defense in sacks with eight, was one of the tackles, while Rob Bodine, who led the club in tackles for loss with 14, was the first-team middle guard. Levon Kirkland, a finalist for the Butkus Award, was a first-team outside linebacker, while Dexter Davis, the ACC's interception leader, was a first-team cornerback. Outside linebacker John Johnson and inside linebacker Doug Brewster, both made second team.

Inside linebacker Ed McDaniel did not make the AP team but was first-team All-ACC by the Football News.

Note: Robert O'Neal, free safety, sophomore, was a 1st-team choice in 1989.

Doug Brewster, inside linebacker, was first team as a junior in 1989.

Ed McDaniel was first-team All-ACC by Football News in 1990.

Seniors Set ACC Record

Clemson's current group of seniors established a new ACC record for victories by a senior class. With the 24-15 win over South Carolina on November 17, Clemson won its 39th game in the last four years. This group is now 39-8, breaking the record of 38-8-2 by the seniors of 1989. Ironically, the seniors broke the record in their final home game against their number-one rival.

This group also had a 23-3 record at home, which established another Clemson mark for most home victories by a senior class. They broke the record of 22 wins held by the senior group of 1984, a group that featured William Perry.

Here is a list of Clemson seniors who will be playing in their final bowl game.

Mitch Belton	DB	Columbia, SC
Scott Beville	SN	Ocala, FL

Clemson In Sixth Straight Bowl Appearance

Clemson will tie an ACC record for consecutive seasons in a bowl game when it makes its Hall of Fame Bowl appearance this year. Clemson has been to a bowl game every year since 1985 and has won each of its last four bowl games. Clemson and Florida State are the only teams in the nation to win a bowl game each of the last four seasons.

Clemson will tie Maryland's record for consecutive bowl seasons when it goes to a bowl this year. The Terps were in a bowl every year between 1973 and 1978. Clemson will have a shot at breaking the ACC record for consecutive bowl victories. Clemson has won four in a row heading into this year's postseason play. North Carolina also won four straight bowl games in four years between 1979 and 1982.

Clemson extended its ACC record for consecutive winning regular seasons to 14. Clemson has had a winning ledger in the regular season every year since 1976.

Ninth Straight Bowl for Hatfield

Clemson Head Coach Ken Hatfield will be coaching a team in a postseason bowl at the Division I level for the ninth straight season. He took Air Force to a bowl each of his last two years at the Colorado Springs based school, then took Arkansas to a bowl all six years he coached his alma mater. Hatfield is one of just five coaches to take a team to a bowl each of the last nine years. The company Hatfield is keeping includes Bobby Bowden of Florida State, Pat Dye of Auburn, Tom Osborne of Nebraska and Lavell Edwards of Brigham Young.

Both Coaches Looking For First Win

Both John Mackovic of Illinois and Ken Hatfield of Clemson will be looking to enter the win column in meetings against their respective opponents when the Tigers meet the Illini in the Hall of Fame Bowl. John Mackovic is 0-3 against Clemson in his head coaching career, while Ken Hatfield is 0-1-1 against Illinois.

Mackovic was 0-3 against the Tigers during his career as head coach at Wake Forest (1978-80). Clemson gained victory at Wake Forest in 1978, 51-6, then stopped a 14th-ranked Demon Deacon team 31-0 at Clemson in 1979. In one of the wildest Tiger games ever, Clemson stopped Wake Forest 35-33 in 1980. Clemson led 35-7 going into the fourth period of that game, but the Deacons won the fourth period 26-0. A wild center snap over quarterback Jay Venuto's head out of shotgun formation on the Deacons' potential game-winning drive was important in Clemson's victory.

Ken Hatfield dropped a 27-19 decision to Illinois as the head coach at Air Force on

Ken Hatfield Comments on Illinois

"Illinois is an excellent football team, and they are outstanding in the fundamentals. They have a good balance between a running game and a passing game, and they particularly have a great running back who we will have to stop. John Mackovic is an innovative coach and a tough competitor. We coached together briefly at Army and I have followed his career and his success since that time. It's going to be a good experience to play them in that we do very similar things on offense and defense.

"We both have experience and both teams have people who know how to play. Illinois does some things, especially defensively, the way we do, and that helps us with learning assignments and with picking up the tempo and speed of the game. It is amazing that some of our coaching staff went up and spent some time with Illinois' staff last spring during the off-season. They got together to pick up and share some ideas and lo and behold, here we are playing one another.

"Several of the NFL people I have talked to have said that there will be the greatest number of defensive stars on the field in this game than in any bowl game this year. Illinois has some great people who can run and hit you. Their defense is big and quick and they don't stay blocked. That's the impressive thing about them. Sometimes if a team hasn't seen the option they have a little problem with it. But this team has played two games against option teams and they are old, experienced people. It will be a real challenge for us offensively to move the ball against them.

"They were really tremendous last year and now they have been able to come back and tie for the Big Ten championship. They are the only team to defeat Colorado this year which is a major accomplishment. I looked at the Colorado game pretty thoroughly because they were down 17-3 and came back to win. That game showed that Illinois is as good as any team in the country. They started out this season mighty young on offense and they have done a great job after losing Jeff George.

Their quarterback has hit 65 percent of his passes and had a tremendous year.

"The Big Ten co-champions is big for Clemson. Our conference doesn't have many games against Big Ten people and it's good for two good teams from different areas to come together in a bowl game. They play a different style of football and it is a great opportunity for our team to see that style of play.

"They run a lot of different formations. They ran a play action pass on fourth and one against Virginia last year and had four receivers wide open. It was a good play call. They will do things like that to really keep you on your toes. Griffith is an excellent running back. You know you're in high cotton when you can break some of Red Grange's records. I think John puts a lot of stock in him and wants to give him the ball as much as he can. But they keep a good balance between running and throwing. They will show us many different things offensively."

September 22, 1979, just the third game of Hatfield's head coaching career. The next year in a game at Air Force, the two teams played to a 20-20 tie.

Clemson in Death Valley

Here are some interesting facts about Clemson at home this season

*Clemson's defense allowed just one touchdown in Death Valley, the lowest figure since 1948 when that club shut out the opposition 142-0 over the course of the season. This was just the second Clemson defense to allow one touchdown or less at home over the course of the season.

*Clemson outscored the opposition 211-28 this season. The +183 margin is the largest point margin in Clemson's favor over the course of a home season in Clemson history. The previous record was +170 in 1950 when the Tigers outscored the opposition 192-22 in four games. Clemson also had a +159 in 1978 (209-50) and a +154 at home in 1981, the national championship season.

*Clemson scored 211 points at home the fifth Clemson team to score 200 points at home. The record is 256 by the 1987 team (8 games) with the 1983 team holding second at 246.

*Clemson allowed just 155.5 yards a game at home this season.

*Duke and South Carolina were the only teams to gain over 200 yards in total offense against Clemson at home this season. Duke had 218 and South Carolina 248.

*South Carolina gained the most rushing yards against Clemson in Death Valley this year, but that was just 85 yards.

*No individual had a run over 20 yards against Clemson at home this year. Leroy Gallman of Duke had the longest run against Clemson in The Valley this year and it was just 18 yards.

The longest pass play against Clemson was just 43 yards, by South Carolina on a pass in the fourth quarter of the last home game. But, that was the only play over 25 yards against Clemson in Death Valley all season.

*Clemson gave up just six plays over 20 yards at home all year, four were by South Carolina in the final home game of the season.

*In 80 possessions in Death Valley this year, the opposition picked up over 50 yards on a drive just twice. Appalachian State had a 59-yard drive and North Carolina a 55-yard drive. Opponents lost yardage on 15 possessions and had three plays and a punt, or a turnover 47 times.

*Only two TDs were scored against Clemson all season at home, one on a four-yard run by Mike Dingle of South Carolina and one on a 78-yard kickoff return by Leroy Gallman of Duke on Sept. 29.

Obed Ariri holds the unusual distinction of playing in Clemson's only previous win over a Big 10 Team (vs. Ohio State in 1978 Gator Bowl) and is the only Clemson football player to play in Tampa Stadium. But he did not play football for the Tigers in Tampa, he played in the final four of college soccer. Later, as a professional, he was a kicker for the Tampa Bay Bucs.

Clemson vs. the Big Ten

Clemson is 1-1 against the Big Ten and both of the previous games have taken place in bowl confrontations. Clemson downed Ohio State 17-15 in the 1978 Gator Bowl, while the Tigers lost to Minnesota in the 1985 Independence Bowl, 20-13.

Illinois is 2-3 against the ACC in its 100 years of football. This is just the sixth meeting with an ACC team for Illinois, but it will be the third time in the last four years the Illini have played an ACC team. Just last year Illinois defeated Virginia in the Florida Citrus Bowl, 31-21. In the opening game of 1987, North Carolina stopped Illinois 34-14. North Carolina also downed Illinois 27-0 in 1971, while the Illini split a pair with Duke. In 1958 Illinois downed Duke 15-13, but seven years later the Blue Devils were victorious 28-14.

Clemson in Florida Bowls

Clemson has won each of its last six bowl games played in the state of Florida. The Tigers have won four straight bowls, all have been in Florida. The streak began with a 27-21 win over Stanford in the 1986 Gator Bowl. That was followed by consecutive Citrus Bowl victories, 35-10 over Penn State in the Jan. 1, 1988 game and 13-6 in the Jan. 1, 1989 game against Oklahoma. Last year Clemson downed West Virginia 27-7 in the Gator Bowl.

Clemson also won the 1981 National Championship with a 22-15 win over Nebraska in the Jan. 1, 1982 Orange Bowl, and downed Ohio State 17-15 in the 1978 Gator Bowl. Clemson last lost a Florida Bowl at the 1977 Gator Bowl, when Pittsburgh stopped the Tigers 34-3. Overall, Clemson has won its last seven games in the state of Florida, but the Tigers have just an 11-11-1 lifetime record in the Sunshine State.

Clemson is 10-6 in bowl games and joins Florida State as the only team in the nation to win bowl games in each of the last four seasons. Clemson has never won five straight bowl games, in fact, no ACC team has done that.

Clemson in ACC Stats

Clemson had just two players win ACC statistical championships this year. Chris Gardocki set a Clemson single season record with a 44.34 average and won the league punting title for the second straight year. Dexter Davis finished second to Ken Swilling in interceptions per game, but led the league in total interceptions with six. Gardocki was also second in the league and tied for fourth in the nation in field goals per game, while running back Ronald Williams was second to Terry Kirby in rushing with 91.4 yards per game.

As far as team stats are concerned, Clemson led the ACC in total defense, rushing defense, passing efficiency defense, scoring defense and fewest first downs allowed per game. Offensively, Clemson led the ACC in time of possession with a +5:26 minutes per game. Clemson was second in rushing offense to Virginia. The Cavs won that title by just 23 total yards.

Clemson in Tampa Stadium

Clemson has a 2-2 record in Tampa Stadium, the home of the Tampa Bay Bucs, but the record is not recorded in the sport of football. Twice Clemson's soccer team played in Tampa Stadium in the Final Four of college soccer. In 1978 San Francisco beat the Tigers in the semifinals 2-1, but Clemson won the consolation game 6-2 over Philadelphia Textile. The following year, Clemson downed Columbia in the semifinals 4-1, but lost to SIU-Edwardsville in the finals 3-2.

This will not be the first time a Clemson football player has played in Tampa Stadium. Obed Ariri, who played football and soccer for Clemson in 1978 and 1979, played soccer for the Tigers in the stadium in both those NCAA tournaments. He later kicked for the Tampa Bay Bucs for the 1984 season.

Clemson's only appearance in an NFL stadium still used by the NFL took place in 1979. That year Clemson played Baylor in the Peach Bowl in Atlanta Fulton County Stadium, the home of the Falcons. Mike Singletary and the Bears beat Clemson, 24-18.

Clemson High in Categories in the Eighties

In recent statistics released by the NCAA, Clemson ranked in the top 20 for the decade of the eighties in six different statistical categories at the Division I level. Clemson ranked in the top 15 in the nation for the decade in rushing, passing defense and total defense, and also had a top 10 ranking in turnover margin. Clemson had +0.61 turnovers per game for the decade (110-game period) for the eighth best figure in the nation. Clemson gained 307 miscues and committed just 240 in the decade. Here is a list of Clemson's rankings nationally for the decade of the eighties.

9th	Scoring Defense	15.36 PPG
6th	Rushing Offense	239.15 YPG

Hatfield with Best First-Year Record

With the victory over South Carolina Ken Hatfield became the first Clemson coach to win nine games in his first year. He breaks the record of eight wins set by Danny Ford (8-4 in 1979) and Charley Pell (8-3-1, 1977). Hatfield's winning percentage of .818 is the best by a Clemson first year coach since 1900 when John Heisman was 6-0.

Hatfield is one of 21 coaches in their first year at a school at the Division I level. The former Arkansas coach is one of four coaches with at least nine wins in their first year on the job. Nick Saban of Toledo (9-2), John Jenkins of Houston (10-1) and Steve Spurrier of Florida (9-2), are the other first-year mentors with nine wins.

Clemson Players in the NFL

Fifteen former Clemson players are currently on NFL rosters, including 12 who are considered starters. The Tigers are especially well represented on defense as nine of the 15 are defensive players. In fact, Clemson could almost field a complete defensive team with the Perry brothers, Richard McCullough and Jeff Bryant up front, Johnny Rember at inside linebacker and a secondary composed of Rod McSwain, Terry Kinard, Delton Hall and Donnell Woolford. The following is a list of former Clemson players currently with NFL teams:

Smith Has Record-Setting Season

Clemson wide receiver Terry Smith set Clemson freshman records for receptions and receiving yards this season. The native of Clemson (just the second native of Clemson in 13 years to play for the Tigers) had 31 catches for 437 yards this season. The previous freshman record for receptions was 19 by Ray Williams in 1983. Williams also held the freshman yardage record with 342 that same year.

Smith had nine catches for 84 yards against Maryland, a single game record for a Tiger freshman. The previous record was five catches by Terrance Roulhac against Georgia Tech in 1983. Smith's yardage figure was not a freshman record, however. Ray Williams had 105 yards on four receptions against N.C. State that same season.

Smith's nine catches tied for the sixth highest single game total in Clemson history, regardless of class. It was also the most receptions by a Tiger since 1981. You have to go back to the 1981 Maryland game to find a higher single game total. Perry Tuttle had 10 catches against the Terps that year.

Thomas Sets Kickoff Return Record

Terry Smith was not the only Tiger wide receiver to establish a Clemson record at Maryland. Senior Doug Thomas, Smith's running mate in the starting lineup, became the first Clemson player in history to return two kickoffs for touchdown in a season and a career. He had a pair of 98-yard returns for touchdown in the 1990 regular season, one against Long Beach State and one against Maryland. Move over Rocket Ismail.

Thomas led the nation in kickoff returns three weeks into the season and would have led the nation this year with a 30.7 average, but he did not have enough attempts to qualify. He missed two games due to injury and needed 11 returns to reach the minimum. He concluded the regular season with 10, so he was one short.

Thomas had his best game of the season against Maryland, as he also had 69 receiving yards to go with the 98-yard kickoff return. He had a 37-yard reception on a third-and-seven play in the last quarter on the way to Clemson's winning touchdown. When reflecting on the season after the South Carolina game on November 17, Coach Ken Hatfield said that was the key play of the entire season.

The native of Hamlet, NC is one of Clemson's finest all-around athletes. He is the reigning 55-meter indoor ACC champion in track and participated in both the NCAA indoor and outdoor track championships. He already has been a part of six ACC championship teams at Clemson, four in track and two in football. Thomas was also a fine baseball player as a youth, he played in the Little League World Series in Williamsport, PA when he was 12-years-old. He is the cousin of Philadelphia Eagles wide receiver Mike Quick.

Clemson With Youngest Skill Players Since 1943

This year's Tiger offense features the youngest group of skill position players since the 1943 club. That team started nine freshmen on offense due to the limited use of personnel as a result of World War II. An examination of this year's depth chart shows that Clemson has just 20 combined years of experience for the first two teams of the five major skill positions (quarterback, tailback, fullback and two wide receiver positions). The Clemson attack features three freshmen at the tailback slot with Rodney Blunt, Ronald Williams and Derrick Witherspoon.

The only recent team that is close to this young a squad was the 1985 Clemson team, which had just 22 combined years of experience and finished with a 6-6 record, Clemson's only non-winning season since 1976. By comparison, last year's team had 34 years of combined experience over the top two teams of skill position players. Clemson's 1988 team had 33 combined years and the national championship team of 1981 had 32 combined years of experience in that area of the team.

The youth did not keep the Tiger offense down, however, as Clemson ranked ninth in the country in rushing and averaged 27.5 points per game, third best in the ACC. Clemson's top eight rushers were all underclassmen, and in fact, five of the top six were sophomores or freshmen.

Long Finalist for Outland Trophy

Clemson offensive tackle Stacy Long was one of three finalists for the Outland Trophy, the award presented each year to the top lineman (offensive or defensive) in the nation. The winner was announced on December 5, as Russell Maryland of Miami took the honor. Clemson's Michael Dean Perry was a finalist in 1987.

Long was a first-team All-American according to the Associated Press, UPI, the Football Writers Association, Football News and Sporting News this year. He was a first-team choice by The Sporting News in 1989, and a third-team selection by AP. He has had another fine season this year with an average grade of 79 percent and 46 knockdown blocks. The two-time ACC Lineman of the week is Clemson's career leader in knockdown blocks by an offensive tackle with 133.

"Stacy Long is one of the classic drive blockers in all of college football," said Georgia Tech Head Coach Bobby Ross. "He is tremendously strong. When you look at him on film, the first thing that stands out is how quick, how low and how aggressive he is coming off the ball. Clemson has always had football players who can do that, but I think Stacy Long has to be one of the best they've had."

Harmon Sets Two Clemson Records

Clemson senior Eric Harmon deserves a lot of credit for Clemson's 9-2 season and number-nine national ranking in rushing offense this year. The native of Camden, NJ is Clemson's leader in knockdown blocks this season with 68 and now has an all-time Clemson record 265 for his career. He broke John Phillips's record of 245 when he had nine against Wake Forest on October 27.

Harmon also holds the Clemson record for games started in a career, regardless of position. Now, that is an accomplishment for an offensive lineman considering the contact Harmon faces every week. He made his 46th career start against South Carolina and has missed just one game in his career. He broke the record of 44 starts by Rodney Williams (1985-88). He was recently chosen first-team All-ACC by the ACC Sportswriters Association.

Williams Second Among First-Year Freshmen

Clemson tailback Ronald Williams is currently second in the nation in rushing yards per game among first-year freshmen with 91.4 yards per game. Robert Smith of Ohio State is the only first-year freshman in the nation ranked ahead of Williams. Smith is 21st in the nation with an average of 96.7 yards per game, while Williams ranks 26th, the highest ranking ever by a Clemson first-year freshman.

Williams shattered the Clemson rushing record for a first-year freshman with 914 yards. He broke the mark of 505 by Ken Callicutt in 1973. Terry Allen still has the overall freshman rushing record with 973 yards in 1987. That also includes the bowl game of that season.

Thus, Williams needs just 60 yards against Illinois to break Allen's freshman record and 86 to become Clemson's first freshman 1,000-yard rusher.

Gardocki in Top 10 Again

Clemson junior Chris Gardocki, the ultimate football kicking weapon, finished in the top five in the nation in field goals and punting. It marked the second straight year he had finished in the top 10 in the nation in both categories. He is ranked fourth in the nation in punting and is tied for fourth in the nation in field goals per game. Last year he became just the second player in NCAA history to rank in the top 10 in the nation in punting and field goals in the same season. Steve Little of Arkansas is the only other player to do it, he was in the top four in the nation in both areas in 1977. Gardocki obviously is the first player to do it twice.

Gardocki was a first-team All-ACC choice in both areas as a sophomore, the first time in ACC history that the same player had been first team in both areas. Well, he did it again this year by being named at both positions again. This season Gardocki has averaged 44.34 yards a punt (a Clemson record) and has connected on 19-24 field goals. He has a 57-yarder to his credit to tie the ACC record, and has had a pair of four-field-goal games. He is currently third in ACC history in career field goals and needs just five next season to tie the conference record. He was chosen second-team All-American kicker by AP, UPI, Sporting News and Football News.

"Obviously, there is not a better kicker in the country than Chris Gardocki," said Georgia Tech Coach Bobby Ross. "If there is a better punter-placekicker I'd like to know who it would be."

"Gardocki is good enough to be the best in the nation in both placekicking and punting," said Virginia Head Coach George Welsh. "I just can't imagine anyone else in the country that good."

"Chris Gardocki might be the best player in college football," said South Carolina coach Sparky Woods. "I don't know of any that do more things so well for their team. He is a great kicker and punter."

Gardocki has booted 69 straight extra points and needs just two more to set a Clemson record for consecutive PATs. He established seven Clemson records this season.

Gardocki Ties Two Records, Sets Another

Clemson kicker Chris Gardocki tied two Clemson records against Georgia Tech, one on a single-game basis and one on a career basis. The native of Stone Mountain, GA kicked four field goals in the win over Georgia to tie a Clemson single game record. He duplicated the feat against Georgia Tech, so he had eight field goals in the two-game period. It marked the sixth and seventh times a Clemson kicker had booted four field goals in a game. Obed Ariri did it four times between 1977 and 1980, and David Treadwell had a four field-goal game against Georgia in 1987.

Gardocki now has 19 multiple field goal games in his career, establishing a new mark for multiple field goal games in a career. The record was previously held by Obed Ariri, who had 17 in his career. Gardocki had four straight multiple field goal games at one point this season. He saw a streak of 10 straight made field goals snapped at Georgia Tech when a 53-yarder hit the crossbar.

Gardocki is also tied with Donald Igwebuike for the most field goals of 50 yards or more in a career. Gardocki and Igwebuike both have five field goals over 50 yards. Igwebuike kicked for the Tigers between 1981 and 1984. Gardocki already has the record for 50-yard field goals in a season with three this year.

Gardocki Among Career Leaders

Clemson placekicker Chris Gardocki is only a junior, but he is already among Clemson's career leaders in many categories. Gardocki has 60 career field goals (including five in bowl games), including 19 this season, and has moved into second place behind Obed Ariri. Gardocki went ahead of current Denver Bronco David Treadwell with his four field goals against Georgia. Gardocki is now second in career kick-scoring and overall scoring.

With a 50-yard average on five punts against South Carolina, Gardocki has moved to number-one on Clemson's career punting list. He moved ahead of Dale Hatcher and is the only player in Clemson history above 43 yards a punt.

Gardocki now ranks third in ACC history in career field goals and is fifth in career punting average. Here is a list of Gardocki's rankings in career kicking categories:

Brewster Breaks 300 Mark

Senior inside linebacker Doug Brewster became the sixth player in Clemson history to reach the 300-tackle mark when he played his final game in Death Valley against South Carolina. The second-team All-ACC choice this year had 11 tackles against North Carolina and eight against South Carolina. He now has 306 career tackles heading into his last game as a Tiger.

Brewster, a first-team All-ACC choice in 1989, has 79 tackles this year to rank in a tie for second on the team. Teammate Ed McDaniel should join the club next year. He already has 263 career stops and still has another year to go. Here is a list of Clemson's all-time tackle leaders heading into the Illinois game:

Four of Top 10 Sack Men on this Team

Four of the top 10 quarterback sack men in Clemson history are starters on this year's Tiger defense, a defense that leads the nation in total defense and ranks second in rushing and scoring defense. Levon Kirkland, John Johnson, Vance Hammond and Chester McGlockton all rank in the top 10 in Clemson history, the first time in Clemson history four players on the same team rank in the top 10 in sacks.

The group had a great game in the season finale against South Carolina. The foursome had six sacks against the Gamecocks for -30 yards and combined for 27 tackles.

The Tigers have 37 sacks as a team this year and have 105 tackles for loss and this foursome has combined for 18.5 sacks and 37 tackles behind the line of scrimmage. Clemson broke the school record for tackles for loss in a season with 105 this year. Clemson's national championship team of 1981 holds the single season sack mark with 44. Here is the updated list of Clemson career sack leaders

Clemson Defense Faces Griffith

The Clemson defense will face its toughest running back of the season when the Tigers meet Illinois and Howard Griffith. The Illinois runner ran for 15 touchdowns and 1056 yards this season in leading the Illini in rushing. He broke Red Grange's 64-year-old mark of 31 career TDs and now has 33 for his career.

This will be a challenge to a Clemson defense that has not allowed a running back to gain 100 yards all season. In fact, only one running back has gained 70 yards against Clemson and that was Virginia's Nikki Fisher, who had 70 yards in eight rushes against the Tigers.

Clemson has not allowed a running back to run wild in the last five years. During this time, covering 59 games, only two running backs have had 100-yard days against the Tigers. Kennard Martin of North Carolina had 116 yards in 16 attempts against Clemson in 1988, 25 games ago. The only other 100-yard day against Clemson in the last five years was a 107-yard day by Harold Green of South Carolina in 1987.

During this time Clemson has met some outstanding backs. Six running backs who are now in pro football have failed to get 100 yards against Clemson over the last five years. They include Tim Worley and Lars Tate of Georgia, Derrick Fenner of North Carolina, Brad Muster of Stanford, Rodney Hampton of Georgia and Dexter Carter of Florida State.

This season the top nine running backs in the conference have combined to gain 246 yards in 81 attempts and scored two touchdowns, a 3.0 average. They have averaged just 27 yards a game against Clemson this year. Only one of the top nine rushers in the ACC had over 50 yards against Clemson this season, and that was Nikki Fisher of Virginia. (We use top nine, because Clemson's Ronald Williams is second in the league).

Griffith will be going against the best rushing defense in Clemson history on a yards per game basis (71.7 yds a game) and a yards per rush basis (2.14). It is the fourth best yards per total play defense (3.52).

Opponents Below Average vs. Clemson Defense

No Clemson opponent reached its scoring average against Clemson this season and only one opponent reached its season average in terms of total offense. And, that was by just one yard by N.C. State. The Wolfpack averaged 327 yards a game this year in total offense and gained 328 against the Tigers on October 20.

A look to the stats below indicates that opponents gained an average of 217 yards a game against Clemson in terms of total offense, 135 yards per game lower than their collective average. In terms of scoring, teams scored an average of 14 less points per game against the Tiger defense. Clemson yielded 10 points a game this year, while opponents collectively averaged 24 a game.

Additionally, six different teams had their season low in total offense against Clemson, while five teams had their season low in scoring against Clemson. Long Beach State was held 23 points and 314 yards below their average for the season, Virginia was held 20 points and 144 yards below their average, while North Carolina was held 18 points and 110 yards below their average.

Kirkland Butkus Award Finalist

Clemson outside linebacker Levon Kirkland was one of five finalists for the Dick Butkus Award. The honor is given to the top linebacker in the nation and is presented by the Downtown Athletic Club of Orlando, FL. The award was given to Alfred Williams of Colorado.

Kirkland, who was recently chosen a second-team All-American by Associated Press and UPI, was joined by Michael Stonebreaker of Notre Dame, Maurice Crum of Miami, Alfred Williams of Colorado and Darrick Brownlow of Illinois. Kirkland, who is the only underclassman of the group, is the first Clemson player to be chosen as a finalist for the award. The native of Lamar, SC is one of the reasons Clemson is first in the nation in total defense. He has 53 tackles, 10 tackles for loss, seven passes broken up and 14 quarterback pressures.

Dexter Davis led the ACC in total interceptions.

Clemson Sets TD Return Record

Clemson has six touchdowns by return this season, an all-time school record for touchdowns by punt return, kickoff return, interception return or fumble return. The Clemson defense has scored four touchdowns and added a safety this year, good enough for 30 points. That is a Clemson single season record for points scored by the defense.

The previous record for touchdown returns in a season was four by the 1970 and 1989 teams. Clemson now has 10 touchdowns by return in the last two seasons, eight of the 10 have been by the Clemson defense. So, Clemson has eight touchdowns by the defense in the last 23 games. By comparison, Clemson had just seven TDs by return between 1971 and 1980.

Three players have had two touchdowns by return each this year. Arlington Nunn had interception returns for touchdowns against Long Beach State and Wake Forest, while Dexter Davis had a 52-yard fumble return against N.C. State and a 30-yard interception return for a score against North Carolina. Doug Thomas has two kickoff returns for touchdowns, one against Long Beach State and one against Maryland. Few teams have kicked to him since.

Nunn and Thomas are the first Clemson players to have multiple returns for touchdown in their respective categories in Clemson history.

Davis Among National Leaders, Clemson Leaders

Clemson cornerback Dexter Davis grabbed his sixth interception of the season against North Carolina and he returned it 30 yards for a touchdown. Davis now has 10 interceptions for his career and is in a tie for fifth in Clemson history. He is tied for 14th in the nation in interceptions. Only Terry Kinard (1978-82), Fred Knoebel (1950-52), Eddie Geathers (1977-80) and Pete Cook (1950-52) have more career thefts than Davis. Kinard is the leader with 17, while Knoebel had 15. Davis led the ACC in total interceptions this season with six.

Davis also now has 32 career passes broken up, including a team best nine this season. Davis now ranks third in Clemson history in passes broken up. He needs just two more to move into second place, ahead of Delton Hall (now with Pittsburgh Steelers) and Donnell Woolford (now with Chicago Bears). Woolford had 44 between 1985 and 1988.

Cradle of Coaches?

Ken Hatfield and John Mackovic have never faced each other as head coaches but they are familiar with each other. In fact, they once coached together as graduate assistants during their tenures at Army. They worked with the freshmen team at Army in 1966. Bill Parcells was also an assistant coach at Army during that time, while Bobby Knight was the head basketball coach. Current Duke basketball coach Mike Kryzewski was a sophomore guard on the Army team at that time, so there were some great coaching minds at Army in 1966-67. Dave Bliss and Don Devoe were also at Army at that time and once lived with Coach Hatfield.

Ed McDaniel, Clemson's top tackler, was a major reason no Clemson opponent reached its season scoring average against the Tigers.

Tigers in Top 20 Five Straight Years

A victory over Illinois in the Hall of Fame Bowl would assure a fifth straight year in the final AP top 20 for the Tiger program. Clemson is ranked 14th in AP, 14th in USA Today, 13th in Sporting News and 11th by UPI heading into the bowl game. Clemson finished the 1986 season ranked 17th, followed that with a #12 finish in 1987, #9 in 1988 and #12 in 1989. Clemson has a chance to be one of just four teams in the nation to rank in the final Top 20 five years in a row. Miami, Nebraska and Michigan are the others. Auburn has also been in the top 20 between 1986 and 1989, but they are not in the top 25 heading into the bowl games. Nebraska needs to beat Georgia Tech to stay in the top 20, the Cornhuskers are 19th heading into the bowl.

Bowl Experience

Seven current Clemson players have played in three bowl games already in their careers, including two who have started three bowl games. Eric Harmon, who has 46 career starts, should make his fourth start in a bowl game at offensive guard when the Tigers face Illinois, while Doug Brewster should make his fourth bowl start as an inside linebacker. Five other Tigers, Stacy Fields, Jerome Henderson, Arlington Nunn, John Johnson and Vance Hammond, have played in each of Clemson's last three bowl games, all victories.

Head Coach Ken Hatfield

Facing challenges head on: that might be Ken Hatfield's most significant asset. It has helped him in all walks of life, but especially when it comes to football.

As a player, he helped Arkansas face every challenge in 1964, when the Razorbacks had an 11-0 season and won the national title. As an assistant coach at Tennessee and Florida, he moulded countless players into top-notch athletes who competed for Southeastern Conference titles, played in seven bowl games in a 10-year period, and ranked in the final top-20 five times.

As a head coach, he took a dormant Air Force program to a number-13 national ranking and a pair of bowl wins. He continued to meet the challenges at Arkansas, his alma mater, guiding the Razorbacks to back-to-back Southwest Conference titles, something that had not been done at Arkansas since Hatfield was a player.

And this year, he may have faced his greatest challenge at Clemson. His charge was to continue Clemson's contemporary excellence (only Nebraska and Miami had fewer losses in the decade of the eighties). But if Hatfield's first season is any indication of how the future of Clemson football will look, the Tigers are in good hands entering the 1990s. With a victory over South Carolina, he became the first Clemson coach to win nine games in his first year and his .818 winning percentage is the best by a first-year Clemson coach since 1900 when John Heisman was 6-0. The season included five wins over teams with winning records. Only Notre Dame and Georgia Tech had more.

Hatfield has now taken his teams to nine consecutive post-season bowls, including January 1 appearances four of the last five years. Hatfield is one of just five active coaches to take a team to a bowl each of the last nine years. He is in noteworthy company as the other members of that exclusive club are Tom Osborne (Nebraska), Pat Dye (Auburn), LaVell Edwards (BYU), and Bobby Bowden (Florida State).

Hatfield has an overall record of 91-50-2 (.643), but he has won 78 percent of his games over the last eight seasons (74-21-1). At Arkansas, he posted a record of 55-17-1 over six seasons, a .760 winning percentage. That percentage is second best in Southwest Conference history as only Darrell Royal (Texas 1957-76) had a better percentage. Hatfield's SWC winning percentage was higher than 11 former SWC coaches who are in the College Football Hall of Fame, including Bear Bryant, Frank Broyles, Jess Neely, and John Heisman.

The native of Helena, Arkansas, played in two bowl games with the Razorbacks, coached in seven post-season games as an assistant and the Hall of Fame Bowl will mark the ninth in which he has been the head coach. Five times he has coached a team to a top 15 final ranking in the AP poll, and he played on two other top 15 teams. A victory over Illinois would give him six top-15 seasons in the last eight years.

Hatfield-coached clubs have excelled offensively and defensively, but they have been particularly successful in rushing offense and defense. Each of his last nine teams have finished in the top 20 nationally in rushing offense, including six top 10 finishes. This includes this year's team, which averaged 255 yards a game.

Two of his last four Arkansas teams finished in the top three in the country in turnover margin, including his 1988 team that was first in the nation (Clemson was second that same year). Defensively, his clubs have finished in the top 15 in the nation in rushing defense six of the last seven years. The Tigers were ranked first in the nation in scoring defense, second in total defense, and second in rushing defense at the end of the 1990 regular season.

The 47-year-old Hatfield has coached in four major conferences and with independent schools, giving him a diverse background in the finer points of the game. It is one reason he was named the third best teaching coach in college football by Inside Sports Magazine last summer.

Hatfield began his coaching career immediately after graduation. In the fall of 1965, he served as an assistant coach at Helena-West Helena High School in Arkansas. In 1966, he moved to West Point, where he served as freshman coach for two seasons.

After the two-year stint at Army, he served as an assistant coach at Tennessee for three years (1968-70). The Volunteers went to post-season bowls all three seasons (including two major bowls), won a conference title and ranked in the final top 20 of the AP poll all three seasons, including a number-four ranking in 1970.

In 1971, Hatfield began a seven-year stint at the University of Florida, spending four seasons as a defensive backfield coach and three as an offensive backfield mentor. Florida played in four bowl games during his career in Gainesville and two more Gator teams finished in the AP top 20, including the 1974 team that played Nebraska in the Sugar Bowl.

Hatfield became offensive coordinator at the Air Force Academy under current New York Giants Head Coach Bill Parcells in 1978. A year later, Parcells departed and Hatfield became the Falcons' head coach. The Air Force program had not had a winning season

Hatfield has now taken a team to bowl games nine straight years, including four Jan. 1 bowls in the last five years.

*Denotes Conference Champion

Note: 1964 Arkansas team named National Champs by Football Writers Association.

Hatfield has won almost 80 percent of his games over the last eight seasons.

since 1973. But by his fourth season, Hatfield had an eight-game winner, led Air Force to its first-ever victory over Notre Dame, and had taken the Falcons to a post-season bowl for the first time since 1971.

In 1983, Hatfield was named national Coach-of-the-Year by the Football Coaches Association (Bobby Dodd Award) after leading Air Force to a 10-2 season that included wins over Notre Dame, Navy and a bowl victory over Mississippi. It was the Academy's first-ever win over Notre Dame in South Bend.

The next year, Hatfield succeeded Lou Holtz at Arkansas, where he would take his alma mater to 55 wins in six seasons, six bowl appearances and four final top-15 rankings. His 1985 club finished with a 10-2 mark and number-12 national ranking, the Razorbacks' first Top 20 finish since 1982. Four times the Razorbacks rallied from fourth quarter deficits to gain victory.

The 1986 campaign was another year of success with highlight victories over a nationally ranked Texas A&M club and the Razorbacks' first win in 20 years at Texas. Arkansas advanced to the Orange Bowl and finished 15th in the final AP poll.

Arkansas won the 1988 and 1989 Southwest Conference Championship and the Razorbacks never finished lower than second in his six years at Fayetteville. He was named Southwest Conference Coach-of-the-Year in 1988 as he took the Razorbacks to the league title and a 10-0 start. Miami (FL) defeated Arkansas 18-16 in the Orange Bowl to stop the streak. Seven players off the 1988 club (all recruited by Hatfield) were drafted by the NFL, an Arkansas single draft record.

After last season's 10-2 ledger and second straight SWC championship, Hatfield was named Southwest Conference Coach-of-the-Decade by the Houston Post. Included in the victories was a triumph over a top-15 Houston team and Heisman Trophy winner Andre Ware.

Hatfield has also had success off the field. A recent release by the CFA cited his 1989 Arkansas class for excellence in terms of graduation rate (over 80 percent), one of the top 10 figures in the nation.

"Football is a part of a young man's education. He learns about himself by playing football," states Hatfield. "It gives him a perspective of how to handle defeat as well as victory. Our success at Clemson will be reflected in the lives of our players after they leave Clemson University."

These statements were certainly watchwords for Hatfield as a player and these experiences have helped him in his relationship with his players. Hatfield played three years at Arkansas (1962-64) and he was a starter on the National Championship team of 1964. A defensive back by trade, he earned his fame as the nation's top punt returner in 1963 and 1964. He also finished as the runner-up as a sophomore and is still the only college football player to finish in the top two in the nation in punt returns three straight seasons.

His most memorable play took place against Texas in 1964 when he raced 81 yards with a punt return for a touchdown in Arkansas' thrilling 14-13 victory. It was the key victory in the Razorbacks' championship season. Altogether, Hatfield scored five TDs via punt returns in his career, including an Arkansas record 95-yard return against Tulsa in 1963.

An accounting major who earned his diploma in the spring of 1965, Hatfield was an Academic All-American in 1964 and was the recipient of the Swartz Award, presented annually to the top student-athlete at Arkansas. The 1964 All-SWC selection was inducted into the Arkansas Sports Hall of Fame in 1989.

Hatfield is married to the former Sandy Wright of Kennett, Missouri.

Perhaps the most valuable player on the 1990 Clemson squad, he finished in the top five in the nation in field goals and punting this season...this marks the second straight year he has finished in the top 10 in both categories...ranks fourth nationally in punting and is tied for fourth in field goals per game...last year, became just the second player in NCAA history to rank in the top 10 in both categories in the same season and is the first player ever to do it twice...a first-team All-ACC selection as both punter and placekicker each of the last two seasons, the first (and second) time in history that the same player has been first-team in both areas...has averaged a Clemson record 44.34 yards a punt this season and has connected on 19-24 field goals...booted a 57-yarder versus Appalachian State to tie the ACC record and has had a pair of four field goal games this season, in back-to-back games versus Georgia and Georgia Tech, both schools from his home state...that marked the sixth and seventh times a Clemson kicker had booted four field goals in a game...has booted 69 straight extra points and needs just two more to set a Clemson record for consecutive PATs...established seven Clemson records this season, he established two in one game...now has 19 multiple field goal games in his career, establishing a new mark for multiple field goal games in a career...the previous record was held by Obed Ariri, who had 17...saw a streak of 10 straight made field goals end versus Georgia Tech when a 53-yarder hit the crossbar...tied with Donald Igwebuike for the most field goals of 50 yards or more in a career and both have made five from over that distance...also holds the record for 50-yard field goals in a season...has 60 career field goals, second in Clemson history only to Obed Ariri...went ahead of Denver Bronco pro bowler David Treadwell with his four field goals against Georgia...now second in Clemson history in career kick-scoring and overall scoring, with 249 points...averaged 50 yards per punt on five kicks in the win over South Carolina and has moved to number-one on Clemson's career punting list...the only player in Clemson history to average above 43 yards a punt...now ranks third in ACC history in career field goals and is fifth in career punting average...16-17 inside the 48-yardline this season...ranks 29th nationally in scoring with 7.6 points per game...second-team All-American according to the Associated Press, UPI, Sporting News, and Football News...an honorable mention All-America punter according to Football News...had a 78-yard punt versus South Carolina, the second longest in Clemson history, Mitch Tyner had an 81-yarder in 1973...has handled all punting and field goal attempts for the Tigers in the last two bowl games...converted on 4-5 field goals and averaged 45-yards per punt in the games versus Oklahoma and West Virginia combined...the ACC punting champion in 1989 with a 42.96 average...had 22 field goals last season to rank second in Clemson history, just one shy of Obed Ariri's record of 23...in 1988, had the second-best punting average by a freshman in Clemson history, second only to Dale Hatcher...set a school record for field goal attempts with 32...a second-team All-ACC choice by AP at placekicker and was an honorable mention All-America choice at punter by AP and UPI as a freshman...tied a freshman record with a 52-yard field goal versus North Carolina...ranked second in the league in punting and first in field goals per game...second on the Clemson team in scoring, his 58 points were the highest total ever by a Clemson freshman...a USA Today first-team All-American as a prepster...set the Georgia state record for the longest field goal with a 59-yarder, that mark has since been broken...also played quarterback at Redan High School, the alma mater of Chicago Bears kicker Kevin Butler...grew up pretending he was Butler when he played on the sandlots...an all-state soccer player who had 18 goals as a junior...majoring in parks, recreation and tourism management...born 2/7/70.

Jeb Flesch

Tigers At Home for Christmas

Nine Clemson players were particularly happy the Tigers would be playing in the Hall of Fame Bowl because it meant they would be near home for Christmas, or at least in their home state. Of the nine players, only one, Arlington Nunn of Clearwater, is a starter. Here is a list of Tigers from Florida:

Scott Beville, Snapper, Ocala, FL, Forest High School
 Rodney Blunt, Tailback, Pensacola, FL, Pine Forest High School
 Dwayne Bryant, Wide Receiver, Tallahassee, FL, Lincoln High School
 Jason Davis, Wide Receiver, Pensacola, FL, Pine Forest High School
 Reggie Demps, Tailback, Orlando, FL, Oak Ridge High School
 Reggie Lawrence, Tailback, Jacksonville, FL, Sandalwood High School
 Tyron Mouzon, Roverback, Clearwater, FL, Dunedine High School
 Arlington Nunn, Roverback, Clearwater, FL, Dunedin High School
 Mike Samnik, Tight End, Clearwater, FL, Countryside High School

THE YEAR IN REVIEW

WEEK ONE (SEPT. 1)

The ACC opened the 1990 season winning five of seven non-ACC games and setting a league record for most points scored on an opening weekend with 266...N.C. State topped the list with a 67-0 whitewashing of Western Carolina, limiting the Catamounts to 17 yards of total offense and setting a conference mark by not allowing a first down...Virginia, behind three TD passes by Shawn Moore, opened with a 59-10 win at Kansas...Maryland QB Scott Zolak teamed with Gene Thomas on a 51-yard scoring pass with 61 seconds remaining to lift the Terps past Virginia Tech, 20-13...Randall Felton's 54-yard punt return for a TD highlighted North Carolina's 34-0 victory over visiting Miami of Ohio...Clemson opened the Ken Hatfield era with a 59-0 victory over Long Beach State before 74,250 in Death Valley spoiling George Allen's return to coaching...Another first year head coach, Duke's Barry Wilson, was not fortunate as his Blue Devils were beaten 21-10 at South Carolina...Wake Forest dropped a 33-17 decision at Rice in a game featuring the two schools with the smallest enrollments in Division One football.

WEEK TWO (SEPT. 8)

In an early-season showdown between the two league favorites, 14th-ranked Virginia topped No. 9 Clemson, 20-7, before a school-record 46,800 in Charlottesville. The win ended Clemson's 29-game win streak over the Cavaliers, the longest active streak in college football...Georgia Tech scored 14 unanswered fourth quarter points to rally past N.C. State, 21-13, in Atlanta. In winning their sixth straight ACC game over the past two seasons, the Jackets' forced five Wolfpack turnovers...for the second week in a row, Maryland QB Scott Zolak and WR Gene Thomas teamed for a late TD pass giving the Terps a thrilling 14-10 victory over No. 25 West Virginia in Morgantown. Zolak and Thomas combined on a 59-yard scoring strike with 2:27 left to play...Wake Forest picked up its first victory of the season with a 23-12 win over visiting Appalachian State...North Carolina turned the ball over three times in a 27-5 loss at South Carolina.

WEEK THREE (SEPT. 15)

Doug Thomas returned a KO 98 yards for a TD and set up the winning score with a 37-yard reception as No. 16 Clemson picked up a 18-17 win at Maryland. QB DeChane Cameron teamed with Rudy Harris on a 11-yard scoring pass to give the Tiges the lead for good with 7:59 left to play...N.C. State overcame five turnovers and defeated Wake Forest, 20-15, before 44,200 in Raleigh. The 'Pack-Deacon contest was carried live by the Armed Forces Network and became first football game ever to be televised into the country of Saudi Arabia...QB Shawn Moore threw for four TDs and ran for a fifth before halftime as 11th-ranked Virginia rolled to a 56-14 victory over Navy...North Carolina scored 17 unanswered points in a 2:47 span of the opening period, enroute to a 48-21 victory over Connecticut...Duke's Marc May grabbed a nine-yard TD pass from QB Dave Brown with 38 seconds left to play, giving the Blue Devils a 27-24 victory over Big Ten foe Northwestern.

State QB Terry Jordan completed 10 of 18 passes for 122 yards and two TDs as the Wolfpack handed head coach Dick Sheridan his 100th career victory with a 56-0 whitewashing of Appalachian State...Clemson TB Ronald Williams rushed for 128 yards and a pair of scores and Chris Gardockl tied a school record with four field goals as the 16th-ranked Tigers rolled past SEC foe Georgia, 34-3.

THE YEAR IN REVIEW

WEEK SEVEN (OCT. 13)

Virginia became the first ACC team in eight years to be voted No. 1 in both national wire service polls following the Cavaliers' 31-0 victory over N.C. State. Before an overflow Scott Stadium crowd of 44,300, QB Shawn Moore passed for three TDs and ran for a fourth as Virginia extended its regular season win streak to 12 in a row...In a battle of nationally-ranked ACC teams, No. 18 Georgia Tech extended their win streak to nine straight with a 21-19 victory over No. 15 Clemson before 46,066 fans and scouts from 10 bowl games...Troy Jackson rushed for 152 yards and QB Scott Zolak completed 14 of 18 passes for 153 yards as Maryland snapped a two-game losing streak with a 41-13 victory over Wake Forest...Walter Jones had two TD catches and ran a reverse for a third score as Duke built a 35-0 halftime lead enroute to a 49-18 win over Western Carolina.

WEEK EIGHT (OCT. 20)

Jake McInerney kicked four field goals and Shawn Moore passed for 258 yards and two scores to lift top-ranked Virginia past Wake Forest, 49-14. TBs Nikki Fisher and Terry Kirby combined to run for 233 yards as the Cavaliers rolled up 574 yards in offense and extended the nation's longest regular-season win streak to 13 games...Scott Sisson booted a 27-yard field goal with 61 seconds left to play as No. 11 Georgia Tech rallied to tie North Carolina, 13-13. The tie ended Tech's nine-game win streak...Dan DeArmas made good on three second half field goals, including a game-winning 20-yarder with 50 seconds left as Maryland held off Duke, 23-20...FB Howard Hall plunged one yard for the game-winning TD with 3:02 as 22nd-ranked Clemson rallied from an early 14-3 deficit to knock off N.C. State, 24-17, before 46,500 in Carter-Finley Stadium. Fresh TB Ronald Williams ran for a game-high 95 yards as the Tigers won in Raleigh for the first time since 1984.

WEEK NINE (OCT. 27)

An aggressive Clemson defense sacked Wake Forest QB Phil Barnhill seven times as the Tigers claimed victory No. 500, defeating the Deacons 24-6. DB Arlington returned a Barnhill interception 26 yards for a TD in the game's first two minutes as Clemson limited the Deacons to only 200 yards of total offense...TB William Bell rushed for 166 yards and one TD and walk-on Kevin Tisdal return a KO 85 yards for a key third quarter TD as Georgia Tech defeated visiting Duke, 48-31. FB Stefan Scotton and QB Shawn Jones each scored two TDs as the 16th-ranked Yellow Jackets extended their undefeated streak to 10 games...QB Todd Burnett threw for a career-high 312 yards and TB Natrone Means ran for 119 yards and one TD as North Carolina exploded for 22 third quarter points in a 34-10 victory over Maryland...N.C. State, behind 188 yards passing from Terry Jordan, snapped a two-game losing streak with a 38-29 victory over South Carolina. Freshman Gary Downs rushed for a career-high 140 yards and two TDs as the Pack rolled up 459 yards against the NCAA's 1-A 10th-ranked defensive unit.

THE YEAR IN REVIEW

WEEK #10 (NOV. 3)

Scott Sisson kicked a 37-yard FG with seven seconds remaining as No. 16 Georgia Tech rallied from a 14-point halftime deficit to defeat top-ranked Virginia, 41-38, in a nationally-televised affair before a record Scott Stadium crowd of 49,700. In a game that featured 48 first downs and 975 yards of total offense, Tech QB Shawn Jones completed 17 of 29 passes for 257 yards and two TDs, and ran for another while his Cavalier counterpart, Shawn Moore, passed for a school-record 344 yards and one score and rushed for three TDs. In a battle of Top 25 UPI ranked teams, Clemson DB Dexter Davis returned an interception 30 yards for a TD and set up another score with a punt return as the 18th-ranked Tigers turned back No. 24 North Carolina before 75,196 in "Death Valley". Clemson's defense, ranked first in the nation limited the Tar Heel offense to only 195 in total offense...TB Tony Kennedy scored on fourth and inches with 6:50 left to play rallying Virginia Tech past visiting N.C. State, 20-16. The Pack led 16-7 before the Hokies rallied for 13 second-half points...Duke rolled up 508 yards in total offense, including 294 yards rushing by 12 different ball carriers, in a 57-20 win over Wake Forest before 32,700 in Durham. TE John Henry Mills caught 14 passes for 230 yards and one TD for the Deacons...On the weekend the ACC drew 159,400 (102% of capacity) in three home contests.

WEEK #11 (NOV. 10)

Scott Sisson's 38-yard FG with eight seconds remaining was the margin of victory as seventh-ranked Georgia Tech emerged as the nation's lone remaining undefeated team with a 6-3 victory over visiting Virginia Tech. Sisson's second field goal in the final quarter capped a 63-yard drive and enabled the Yellow Jackets to extend their unbeaten streak to 13 games. The kick marked the third time in four weeks that Sisson had kicked a late field goal to give Tech a win or a tie...Shawn Moore completed 16 of 22 passes for 236 yards and two TD passes as 11th-ranked Virginia bounced back from its loss to Georgia Tech with a 24-10 victory over North Carolina. Cavalier WR Herman Moore, playing despite two sprained big toes, set an NCAA record when he caught a TD pass for the ninth consecutive game in a season...WR Bobby Jurgens caught a 55-yard scoring pass and an aggressive N.C. State defense sacked Duke quarterbacks seven times and picked off five passes enroute to a 16-0 triumph before 36,800 rain-soaked fans at Carter-Finley Stadium. State, in posting its third shutout of the season and first whitewashing of Duke since 1972, stymied a Duke offense that had scored 123 points against the Wolfpack over the past three years...QB Tony Sacca threw for 162 yards and a TD and Leroy Thompson ran for 132 yards and a score as No. 21 Penn State rallied to beat Maryland, 24-10, before 83,000 in University Park.

THE YEAR IN REVIEW

WEEK #12 (NOV. 20)

Georgia Tech TB William Bell ran for 95 yards and one TD and a opportunistic defense came up with seven turnovers and scored twice as the fourth-ranked Yellow Jackets clinched their first ACC football title with a 42-7 victory over Wake Forest. WR Bobby Rodriguez caught three passes for 75 yards and one TD and ran 22 yards on a end-around for another score as Tech extended its unbeaten streak to 14 and claimed its first football title of any kind since 1952...Mark Mason's 8-yard TD run with 11:23 left to play lifted Maryland to a 35-30 upset victory over No. 8 Virginia. Trailing 21-7 at the half, the Terps got two second-half scoring passes from QB Scott Zolak and a pair of touchdown runs from Mason to finish with their first winning season since 1985. Virginia QB Shawn Moore, among the leading candidates for the Heisman Trophy, dislocated his right thumb with 1:41 left to play on a fourth-down play after the Cavaliers had reached the Maryland 2-yard line...Freshman TB Natrone Means rushed for 256 yards and three TDs, including a 76-yarder on UNC's first play from scrimmage, as North Carolina defeated Duke, 24-22. Means 256 yards were sixth-best total in UNC history and seventh-best in ACC annuals. The Tar Heels, 1-10 in each of the previous two seasons, finished the regular season with a 6-4-1 mark...Freshman TB Ronald Williams ran for 124 yards and Rudy Harris scored twice as 17th-ranked Clemson defeated arch-rival South Carolina, 24-15, before 83,823 in "Death Valley".

WEEK #13 (NOV. 24)

Anthony Williams rushed for 141 yards and three touchdowns and backup QB Keith West passed for three more scores as Wake Forest cruised past Vanderbilt, 56-28. West, replacing starting QB Phil Barnhill, completed 15 of 28 passes for 229 yards, including scoring passes of 45 and 12 yards to Todd Dixon and 37 yards to Walter Rasby...QB Will Furrer threw for 254 yards and three TDs to lead Virginia Tech to a 38-13 victory over No. 17 Virginia before 54,157 in Blacksburg, Va. Matt Blundin started in place of Shawn Moore, the nation's passing efficiency leader, who had dislocated the thumb on his passing hand against Maryland. Blundin responded by completing 21 of 34 passes for 305 yards and a pair of touchdowns.

WEEK #14 (DEC. 1)

Shawn Jones passed for four touchdowns and accounted for a pair of two-point conversions as No. 2 Georgia Tech extended its unbeaten streak to 15 games with a 40-23 victory over in-state rival Georgia. Jones completed 12 straight passes during one stretch as Tech overcame an early 9-0 deficit. The 1990 Jackets became the sixth team in school history to win 10 games in a season (the first in 38 years) and completed Tech's first unbeaten regular season since 1952.

Game Summary

Two head coaches served as mentors for the first time at their respective schools when Clemson met Long Beach State in Death Valley. Ken Hatfield came to Clemson after six successful years at Arkansas, while George Allen made his return to college coaching at Clemson as the head man at Long Beach State.

The Clemson defense was dominant over a 49er team that ended the season 6-5 and averaged 370 yards a game total offense. Clemson held Allen's team to -16 yards rushing and just 57 yards in total offense. Long Beach State failed to convert on their last 12 third-down conversions and crossed the 50-yard line just three times. Long Beach State never got closer than the Clemson 42-yard-line. It was the third best rushing defense for a single game in Clemson history, the best since 1941. It was also the sixth best total defense game in Tiger annals.

Arlington Nunn got things off to a great start by returning an interception 55 yards for a touchdown, the first Tiger points of the Ken Hatfield era. The Tigers also scored another touchdown via a return as Doug Thomas raced 98 yards with the second half kickoff. It was just Clemson's second kickoff return for touchdown in the last 28 seasons.

Clemson used a balanced rushing attack offensively, gaining 330 yards on the ground, including 188 yards on 34 carries by fullbacks. Howard Hall led the way with 78 yards in 10 carries, while Rodney Blunt scored two touchdowns. DeChane Cameron hit 6-8 passes for 69 yards. Clemson used running plays in its last 40 plays in an effort to keep the score at a minimum.

"Clemson's defense is not going to give up many points," said George Allen after the game. "They're linebackers are so quick. Now I know why Major Harris had such a poor game against them. They don't stay blocked. They have some linebackers who will be in the NFL some day."

Game Summary

Ninth-ranked Clemson faced 14th -Virginia in the second game of the season. The Cavaliers were outstanding on defense and on special teams in defeating Clemson for the first time ever. The Tigers had a perfect 29-0 record against Virginia heading into the game that was televised by ESPN.

Clemson jumped off to a 7-0 lead in the second period by driving 80 yards in 13 plays, a drive that took 6:28 off the clock. DeChane Cameron scored on a 25-yard run to give Clemson the lead with 13:15 to go in the second period. Virginia scored two field goals in the second period, one the result of a 59-yard drive.

The second Virginia field goal was the result of a Clemson fumble by Cameron. With just over a minute to go in the half, and on a third-and-20 play, Cameron was sacked by Chris Slade and fumbled. The Cavs recovered and Jake McInerney booted a 26-yard field goal with just eight seconds to go in the half.

That gave Virginia the momentum going into halftime. The Cavs took the second half kickoff and drove 80 yards in 12 plays to take their first lead of the game. Terry Kirby scored on a four-yard run, one of just five rushing touchdowns given up by the Clemson defense all year.

Later in the quarter Jason Wallace returned a punt 79 yards to the Clemson seven-yard line. This set up a 12-yard scoring pass from Shawn Moore to Herman Moore, giving Virginia a 20-7 lead heading into the final period. Clemson drove inside the Cavalier 35 twice in the fourth period, but failed to score both times.

Clemson's defense, led by 26 tackles between Ed McDaniel and Doug Brewster, held Shawn Moore to 13-28 passing and 145 yards, his low completion percentage of the year. Virginia did gain 358 yards in total offense, the one of only three opponents all year to gain over 300 yards against the Clemson defense.

Game Summary:

In what Coach Hatfield would later call the most important victory of the season, Clemson defeated Maryland in Baltimore, 18-17. It was Clemson's first win ever at Memorial Stadium. Clemson used a safety to help it to the one-point win, ironically, the last time Clemson had scored a safety came in Clemson's last one-point win, a 21-20 victory over Georgia in 1987.

Clemson took a 3-0 lead on a 53-yard field goal by Chris Gardocki, the longest of his career at the time, quite an accomplishment considering he booted the ball off the Baltimore Orioles infield. Maryland struck back in the second period behind the passing of Scott Zolak, who threw for 155 yards against Clemson's defense in the first half. Zolak hit George Thomas with a 43-yard TD pass.

Clemson took a 10-7 lead in the second period when Doug Thomas ran a kickoff back 98 yards for a touchdown for the second time in 1990. He became the first Tiger in history to return two kickoffs for touchdown in the same season and career. He did it in a three-game period.

Clemson's defense held Maryland to just 63 yards in total offense in the second half and just one field goal. The only scoring in the third period came on a safety when the center snapped the ball over Zolak's head into the endzone. Maryland made it 17-12 with 10:25 to go in the game when Dan DeArmas booted a 39-yard field goal.

Clemson's winning touchdown drive took place in the middle of the fourth period. DeChane Cameron, who had one of his best days at Clemson hitting 14-25 passes for 163 yards, took the Tigers 68 yards in 8 plays.

The big play of the drive was a 37-yard pass to Thomas on a third-and-seven play. It brought the ball to the Maryland 28. Five plays later, again on third-and-seven, Cameron hit fullback Rudy Harris with an 11-yard scoring pass in the flat. It was the first touchdown reception by a Clemson fullback in 18 years.

On Maryland's last drive Zolak drove Maryland to their own 45. On third-and-10, Dexter Davis intercepted for the Tigers for the second time in the game. Clemson then ran out the final 2:23. Davis was a star on defense for the Tigers with the two interceptions and five tackles. Rob Bodine had a career high 12 tackles in 59 plays and also had a quarterback sack.

Clemson	3	7	2	6	—	18
Maryland	0	14	0	3	—	17

Rudy Harris scored the game winner on an 11-yard TD pass in the fourth quarter from DeChane Cameron. It was the first TD reception by a Clemson fullback in 18 years.

Game Summary:

Clemson saw the emergence of two freshmen running backs in a 48-0 win over Appalachian State. First-year freshmen Derrick Witherspoon and Ronald Williams combined for 306 yards rushing in just 24 attempts to pace the Tiger offense to 389 yards rushing. It was the most rushing yards in a game by the Tigers since 1987.

Williams gained 183 yards, tying him with Terry Allen for the second best rushing day ever by a Clemson freshman. Williams also scored three touchdowns, the first first-year freshman in Clemson history to score that many TDs in a game. Witherspoon ran for 123 yards, 81 on one run. His fourth period run on the first Clemson play of the fourth period was the longest by a Clemson player in Death Valley since 1950.

Chris Gardocki opened the scoring for the Tigers with a 57-yard field goal, a distance that tied the all-time ACC record. He joined Obed Ariri as the only Tigers and ACC players to boot a 57-yard field goal. Gardocki also had a career best 66-yard punt and had a 42.5 average for the day.

Rob Bodine moved further to the forefront defensively. The junior middle guard who came to Clemson as a walk-on from North Dakota had 10 tackles, a sack and three tackles behind the line of scrimmage. It gave Bodine back to back double figure tackle days for the first time in his career.

Kenziel Jackson and Vance Hammond also played well with 15 tackles between them. The Clemson defense racked up its second straight shutout at home behind five sacks and holding the Mountaineers to just 121 yards total offense.

Appalachian State coach Jerry Moore said after the game, "Clemson made the big plays all afternoon. Our defense held them and Gardocki kicks a 57-yard field goal. We force a third-and-long and Cameron hits Ryans with a 40-yard TD. And, there was the 81-yard run by Witherspoon."

Game Summary:

DeChane Cameron became the first Clemson quarterback in nine years to lead Clemson in rushing and the Tiger defense shut out its third straight opponent in Death Valley in a 26-7 victory over Duke. The Homecoming triumph gained revenge for last year's 21-17 Tiger loss at Duke, a game that knocked Clemson out of the undefeated ranks and out of the Top 10.

Clemson had another fine rushing game, its third game of the season over the 300-yard mark. Cameron gained 84 yards in 14 attempts, scored a touchdown and became the first Tiger QB since Homer Jordan against N.C. State in 1981 to pace the Tigers in rushing. Rudy Harris was the top fullback rusher with 11 attempts for a season high 75 yards, while Ronald Williams led the tailbacks with 70 yards in 15 attempts.

Clemson took a 10-0 halftime lead on a 20-yard TD pass from Cameron to freshman Terry Smith, and a 51-yard field goal by Chris Gardocki. The boot was Gardocki's third over 50 yards this season and it put him in a tie with Donald Igwebuike for the Clemson career record for field goals of 50 yards or more.

Cameron put the game out of reach with a two-yard TD run and a three-yard scoring pass to Harris, the second TD reception for the Clemson fullback on the season. Gardocki added a 37-yard field goal and also averaged 50.5 yards a punt.

The Clemson defense held Duke to 72 yards rushing, including only 15 by returning All-ACC running back Randy Cuthbert. Duke's only score came on a 78-yard kickoff return by Leroy Gallman, the only TD surrendered by the Clemson defense in the first five home games of the season.

"The key play of the game was Dexter Davis's interception in the endzone," said Clemson coach Ken Hatfield. "If Duke scored there it would have given them a tremendous lift and momentum. Dexter read the coverage and just made a great diving interception."

Game Summary:

Nine of the previous 11 meetings between Clemson and Georgia had been decided by a touchdown or less. But, the Clemson defense and a freshman running back saw to it that the Tigers would gain a 31-point victory, the largest margin of victory for Clemson in the series since 1905.

The Bulldogs did not penetrate the Clemson 25-yard line on this Spirit Blitz Day at Clemson, and Georgia's only score came as the result of a -6 yard drive after a Clemson fumble deep in Tiger territory. Georgia gained just 131 yards in total offense and it was Georgia's worst margin of defeat against anyone in 13 years.

Ed McDaniel had a big game for Clemson with 10 tackles, while Doug Brewster, a native of Athens, had nine tackles, two tackles for loss and the only blocked punt of his career. It was also the first blocked punt against Georgia in six years. John Johnson, also a native of Georgia, had four tackles and a tackle for loss.

Offensively, freshman Ronald Williams raced 51 yards for Clemson's first touchdown of the game. He finished the day with 128 yards and two TDs in pacing Clemson to a 341-yard rushing day, Clemson's fourth 300-yard day of the season. Rudy Harris had a fine game with 64 yards in 17 attempts as Clemson moved into the top 10 in the nation in rushing. Outland Trophy Finalist Stacy Long was the leader of the offensive line as he graded out 87 percent in his best day of the season. Long was named ACC Player of the Week for his performance.

Chris Gardocki was named ACC Specialist of the week as he tied a Clemson record with four field goals and he averaged 42.3 yards a boot on six punts. It was the 17th time Gardocki had a multiple field goal game for the Tigers.

Clemson controlled the clock for 35 minutes, while Georgia had it for just 25 minutes and converted just one of 13 third-down situations.

Game Summary:

The Clemson-Georgia Tech game figured to be a single-digit scoring game for both teams. The Yellow Jackets and Tigers were both ranked in the top five in the nation in all four defensive categories heading into the game. Clemson won the statistical battle, but Georgia Tech won the game. It reminded many of another Clemson game in the state of Georgia 10 years previously when Clemson outgained Georgia by nearly 200 yards, yet lost the game by four points.

Clemson's offensive line was outstanding in this battle of two teams that would end the regular season ranked in the top 15 in the nation. Clemson gained 290 yards on the ground against the Yellow Jackets, including 230 in the second half. The Tigers had the ball over 38 minutes and outgained Georgia Tech 343-218. Clemson had 21 first downs to just nine for Georgia Tech. It was the first time since 1976 that Clemson had gained that much rushing yardage, yet failed to win the game. Clemson had 58 plays in the second half, most ever by a Clemson team for one half.

Georgia Tech took an early 14-0 lead behind the passing of Shawn Jones, who hit 10-14 passes in the first half. Georgia Tech scored on a 72-yard drive in the first period, then scored again on a Shawn Jones pass after a DeChane Cameron fumble was covered at the Tiger 13.

Clemson battled back behind Chris Gardocki and the Tiger offensive line. Gardocki booted four field goals on the day, had a fifth hit the crossbar from 53 yards out, and he brought Clemson to within 14-9. But, after a 44-yard Gardocki field goal, Kevin Tisdale, who did not even have a bio in the Tech press guide, raced 87 yards with the ensuing kickoff. Tech scored on a five-yard run by Edwards and had a 21-12 lead.

Clemson then scored on a DeChane Cameron three-yard run behind Stacy Long and the Tigers were within two points. Clemson got the ball back and drove to the Tech 43, but Gardocki's 60-yard field goal attempt with a minute left was five yards short and Tech held on for the win.

Ronald Williams led Clemson with 108 yards on 17 attempts, while Derrick Witherspoon, Rudy Harris and Tony Kennedy all had at least 40.

Game Summary

For the second straight week the Clemson defense gave up two touchdowns in the first quarter, then closed the door the rest of the game. The only difference was the final outcome, as Clemson won in Raleigh for the first time since 1984.

Charles Davenport scored two first-period TDs for the Pack, one on a reception and one on a run. It was Davenport's first game as a starting wide receiver after having served as a quarterback previously.

An NCAA rule change, adopted for the first time in 1990, worked to Clemson's advantage in the second period. Dexter Davis recovered a fumble by Greg Mainor and returned it 52 yards for a score. It was a big momentum play for the Tigers, who trailed 14-9 at the half. N.C. State gained just 135 yards after that play.

Clemson took the lead in the third on a 14-yard pass from Cameron to Smith, who became Clemson's freshman record holder for receptions and reception yardage on this day. A field goal by Damon Hartman tied the score at 17 heading into the fourth period.

Clemson's defense then created the winning play for the Tigers. Vance Hammond sacked Terry Jordan at the N.C. State six yard line and Doug Brewster recovered. Howard Hall then ran in from one yard out to give Clemson the 24-17 victory. Shane Scott recovered the ensuing kickoff and Clemson ran out the clock.

DeChane Cameron hit 14-26 passes and finished with a season high 182 yards passing. It was an unusual game for Clemson offensively as the Tigers had more passing yardage than rushing yardage. Meanwhile, Terry Jordan completed 22 of 26 passes, a completion percentage record against the Tigers (min 20 attempts). The Wolfpack were the only team over the last eight games to gain at least 300 yards in total offense against the Tigers.

Hammond had 11 tackles, including two for loss, while Ed McDaniel had 13 stops, caused two fumbles and had three tackles for loss to lead the Clemson defense. Ronald Williams gained 95 yards on the ground, 71 of which took place in the fourth quarter. Chris Gardocki showed his versatility this day by having his best day of the season to date as a punter. He averaged 48.6 yards a boot on six punts and had three punts over 50 and three punts inside the 20.

Game Summary

Clemson gained its 500th victory in history with a 24-6 triumph at Winston-Salem, NC. The Tigers featured a defense that recorded nine sacks against the Deacons, most by a Clemson team in 11 seasons and the second highest single game sack total in Clemson history.

Fittingly, Clemson started the scoring with a defensive touchdown, as Arlington Nunn raced 26 yards with an interception on the second play of the game. Vance Hammond forced the bad pass by pressuring Phil Barnhill. It was Nunn's second TD return of the year, the first time in Clemson history a Tiger had two interception returns for a touchdown in the same season.

Hammond was named ACC Player of the Week for his performance, he had two sacks, caused the interception and four total tackles. Ashley Sheppard also had two sacks and six tackles, while John Johnson had a two-sack game and five first hits. Clemson held the Deacons to 58 yards rushing and 200 yards in total offense. The Tigers moved into first place nationally in total defense after the game.

Offensively, DeChane Cameron had his best passing day of the season, hitting 10-15 for 111 yards. His backup, Richard Moncrief, also had a career day with 4-7 for 78. Ronald Williams was the top rusher again with 75 yards in 16 attempts, while Chris Gardocki averaged 46 yards a punt and booted a field goal.

Offensive guard Eric Harmon had nine knockdown blocks in the game to become Clemson's career leader in that category. Nunn's TD return gave Clemson five TDs by return for the season, a Clemson record.

Rudy Harris scored on a one-yard run in the third period and Gardocki's field goal in the fourth put the game out of reach. The defense only allowed Wake Forest 69 yards after halftime and shut out the Deacons for the last two period.

Game Summary

Many thought North Carolina's offense would pose a challenge to the Clemson defense. The Tar Heels were coming off a convincing win over Maryland in which they had gained over 500 yards in total offense. The impressive showing had moved North Carolina into the top 25 of the UPI poll.

North Carolina's offense did not measure up, however, as the Tar Heels failed to get to the 200-yard mark and had just 38 yards rushing. North Carolina gained just 38 yards in the second half and was shut out the last three quarters.

Chester McGlockton led the defense with a career high 10 tackles, including three behind the line of scrimmage and 1.5 sacks. Doug Brewster added a team best 11 stops and All-ACC defensive back Dexter Davis ran an interception back 30 yards for a score, Clemson's sixth TD by return this year, a Tiger record. Levon Kirkland was also in on two sacks and had six tackles, while Vance Hammond had three quarterback pressures and was a major reason North Carolina signal callers were just 18-32 for 157 yards.

Clemson rushed for 235 yards behind Rudy Harris, who banged out 66 yards. Ronald Williams won the battle of fine first-year freshman running backs, gaining 56 yards and scoring a TD. Natrone Means picked up just 37 yards rushing to lead the Tar Heels. Clemson held the ball 36:38 and had just one turnover.

"Dexter Davis is a great player," said North Carolina coach Mack Brown. "He just made a great play and it turned the game around in Clemson's favor. Clemson's defense forces you to make something happen and that plays right into their hands."

Game Summary

Clemson's group of seniors became the winningest senior class in ACC history with the 24-15 win over South Carolina. It also gave Clemson its first undefeated season at home since 1981. Clemson's 20 seniors completed their home career with a record of 23-3, a Clemson record for home wins in a career. The group was also 39-8, the fifth best record in college football during this time. The victory gave Ken Hatfield a victory over his archrival in his first game against South Carolina, the second Clemson coach to do it since 1940.

South Carolina took a 3-0 lead in the first period on a Colin Mackie field goal, but sophomore fullback Rudy Harris countered with a pair of touchdowns in the second period. Chris Gardocki booted a field goal in the third period to give Clemson a 17-6 advantage heading into the fourth period. Gardocki had a great game punting, averaging 50 yards on six boots, including a 78-yarder that was the second longest in Clemson history.

South Carolina cut the lead to 17-15 in the fourth period, but they missed the two-point conversion. Clemson then drove 86 yards in nine plays to put the game out of reach. Tony Kennedy scored on a one-yard run, his first TD of the season, to give Clemson the insurance it needed.

South Carolina's TD in the fourth period came after the Gamecocks recovered a kickoff at the Tiger 12-yard line. Mike Dingle's score was the only TD yielded by the Clemson defense at home all year.

Chester McGlockton again had a standout game on defense as the sophomore had three sacks for 18 yards to tie a Clemson record for sacks. He was named the Jefferson Pilot Player of the Game for the second game in a row. Ed McDaniel also had 10 tackles, including two behind the line of scrimmage. John Johnson, playing in his final home game, had the first interception of his career to set up a Tiger score.

Clemson concluded the home portion of the season outscoring the opposition 211 to 28. In 80 possessions by opposing offenses at home this year, the Clemson defense gave up a drive of 50 yards or more just twice.

1986 Gator Bowl

Clemson 27, Stanford 21

Christmas came two days late for the Tigers as they won their first bowl since the 1982 Orange Bowl. After a brilliant first half display of offense and defense, Clemson managed to hold off a second half Stanford rally and go on to defeat the 17th ranked Cardinal, 27-21. Before a Gator Bowl crowd of 80,104, the Tigers scored 27 unanswered points in the first half and appeared to be on the way to a rout. But the second half was a different ball game as Stanford came out strong and put up 21 unanswered points of its own.

Gator Bowl MVP Rodney Williams completed 8 of 11 passes in the first half for the Tigers, but it was his execution of the option that helped Clemson gain a 27-0 halftime lead. After punting on their first possession, the Tigers scored on their next five. With the score 17-0 in the second quarter, Reggie Harris knocked the ball loose on a Stanford kickoff return and the Tigers recovered on Stanford's 16-yard-line. Two plays later, Ray Williams took a reverse in for a 14 yard touchdown, his first of the season. David Treadwell added his longest field goal of the year on Clemson's next possession, putting the Tigers up 27-0 at the intermission.

But the Cardinal came back from halftime a different team. Kodak All-America tailback Brad Muster rushed for a touchdown and caught two scoring passes while the Clemson offense came to a standstill. With 1:43 left to play in the game, Clemson was forced to punt to the Cardinal with only a touchdown's lead. But the Tiger defense rose to the occasion, as Stanford gained only six yards on the next four downs. The offense fell on the ball to run the clock out and the Tigers emerged victorious.

Tailbacks Terrence Flagler and Kenny Flowers combined for 149 yards. Sophomore Ricardo Hooper led the receiving corps with two catches for 44 yards. Terrance Roulhac and Terrence Flagler each had three catches with 22 and 23 yards, respectively. Rodney Williams rushed 16 times for 18 yards and one touchdown.

Defensively, the Tigers were led by linebacker Henry Carter who recorded a career high 13 tackles. Gene Beasley added seven tackles and broke up two passes. The game also marked Michael Dean Perry's offensive debut, as he was put in as a blocking back on a goalline situation in the first half.

Rodney Williams was the MVP of Clemson's win over Stanford in the 1986 Gator Bowl.

1988 Florida Citrus Bowl

Clemson 35, Penn State 10

Everything went the Tigers way in sunny Florida as Clemson soundly defeated Joe Paterno's Penn State team, 35-10. Rodney Williams was selected the Citrus Bowl's Most-Valuable-Player as he led the Tigers in a brilliant air attack that took the Nittany Lions by complete surprise, and complemented it with a solid ground game.

The win was Danny Ford's fourth bowl victory in only nine seasons as Clemson's head coach. It also marked Rodney Williams second bowl victory in his three year playing career at Clemson and the second consecutive year that he was named the MVP of a postseason bowl. In 1986, Williams won the honor as the Tigers defeated Stanford in the Gator Bowl.

Williams, who was also named the Offensive Player-of-the-Game, completed 15 of 24 passes for 214 yards. His primary target was wide receiver Keith Jennings who hauled in seven passes for 110 yards, his best career performance. Gary Cooper also had four receptions for 56 yards against Penn State.

The Tigers rushed for 285 yards against Penn State. Terry Allen was the leading rusher with 105 yards and one touchdown. Fullback Tracy Johnson ran for 88 yards and three touchdowns. Joe Henderson added 54 yards and another touchdown.

Defensively, Clemson was led by cornerback James Lott's eight tackles. Safety Richard Smith also had seven tackles and one pass broken up. Strong safety Gene Beasley and linebacker Doug Brewster both had six tackles. Linebacker Dorian Marable was selected the Citrus Bowl's Defensive Player-of-the-Game with his five tackles, including one for a loss. He also intercepted a pass in the endzone and returned it 46 yards in the third quarter.

1989 Florida Citrus Bowl

Clemson 13, Oklahoma 6

The Tigers rang in the New Year in fine fashion with a 13-6 victory over the Oklahoma Sooners, moving into the top-10 of the final AP poll for the first time since 1982 with a ninth-place ranking. The victory also gave Danny Ford a victory over the winningest active coach in Division I, Barry Switzer. Ford has now defeated the top-three winningest active coaches this decade with wins over Switzer, Tom Osborne of Nebraska and Joe Paterno of Penn State.

Although the Tigers faced a wishbone offense for the first time since Ford became head coach, the Clemson defense came through with flying colors, holding the Sooners to only 116 rushing yards, and zero touchdowns.

The first five series of the first quarter ended in punts for both teams. Late in the period, the Sooners drove down to the Clemson one-yardline, and the Tigers defense faced a first-and-goal situation. Outside linebacker Levon Kirkland stopped the ballcarrier for no gain on the first down. On second down Jesse Hatcher sacked Holieway at the 19. After an incomplete pass, the Sooners were forced to settle on a field goal and moved up 3-0.

Doug Brewster intercepted a Holieway pass early in the second quarter to set up the Tigers' first score, a 20-yard boot by Chris Gardocki. With time running out in the first half, Gardocki put the Tigers up with another kick, this time a 46-yarder.

A Clemson fumble in the third quarter gave the Sooners the opportunity to take the lead, but the Clemson defense held and Lashar hit again from 30 yards. The Tigers responded on the next series, driving 80 yards in 15 plays for the game's only touchdown as Terry Allen scored on a four-yard run. Allen, the game's Most-Valuable-Player, rushed for 25 yards and caught two passes for 17 yards on the drive.

Defensive MVP Jesse Hatcher caused and recovered a fumble on the Sooners next drive, but the Sooners would have one more opportunity to score before the final horn sounded. After the Tigers punted, Oklahoma drove from its own 20 to the Clemson 14, as Holieway put the Tigers' secondary to the test by putting the ball in the air. On the last play of the game, freshman Dexter Davis knocked down a pass in the endzone to seal the Tigers' victory.

Terry Allen was named the Citrus Bowl MVP for his performance. Allen rushed for only 53 yards, his season low, but scored the game's only touchdown and caught four passes to lead all Clemson receivers. Bandit end Jesse Hatcher was named Defensive MVP for what was his best career performance as he racked up nine tackles, had two tackles for a loss of 33 yards, including an 18-yard sack, broke up two passes, caused and recovered a fumble, and had four quarterback pressures.

Doug Brewster's interception was a key in Clemson's victory over Oklahoma. He also had nine tackles as Clemson held the Sooners to a season low 116 yards rushing.

1989 Gator Bowl

Clemson 27, West Virginia 7

The Tigers closed out the 1989 season with a stylish victory over West Virginia and Heisman Trophy finalist Major Harris, as a dominant Clemson defense held the high-powered Mountaineer offense to only 237 yards in total offense. The win gave Clemson's senior class the ACC record for victories as they became the first class in conference history to record 38 wins and the first Clemson team ever to win four straight bowl games.

WVU quarterback Major Harris came into the game ranked eighth nationally in total offense and ninth in passing efficiency but the Clemson defense, led by outside linebacker Levon Kirkland, enabled the shifty Harris to gain only 17 yards on the ground and 119 yards in the air on an 11-21 passing effort. Kirkland was named MVP for his efforts, as he had nine tackles, a five-yard sack, caused a key fumble, broke up a Mountaineer pass, and recorded three quarterback pressures.

The fourth quarter was all Clemson, as the Tigers moved the ball 47 yards on the ground to set up a four-yard Joe Henderson touchdown. Vince Taylor recovered a second Harris fumble and after a Clemson punt, freshman defensive tackle Chester McGlockton, the ACC sack leader, knocked the ball loose from Harris once again and fell on it in the endzone for a Tiger touchdown, upping the score to 24-7 in favor of Clemson. As the final seconds ticked off the clock, DeChane Cameron came in at quarterback for the Tigers and hit Rodney Fletcher over the middle for a 34-yard gain to set up a 24-yard Gardocki field goal, putting the final score at 27-7.

Senior tailback Joe Henderson led the Tigers in rushing with 92 yards on 22 carries and one touchdown, while Chris Morocco, who was shaken up late in the game, gained 65 yards on 11 carries. Rodney Fletcher was the leading receiver as he pulled down three catches for 66 yards.

Chris Gardocki kept the Tigers in excellent field position as he posted a 46-yard average on four punts, including a long kick of 63 yards. Defensively, inside linebacker Doug Brewster led the team in tackles with 10, followed by Kirkland's nine and strong safety Arlington Nunn and inside linebacker Ed McDaniel, who had seven stops each.
